

Salam Mema

Salam Mema, a freelance journalist, was recovered from under the rubble of her home after 3 days as well as her oldest son. Her daughter was not yet found. In July, she shared a photo of her 3 young children on Facebook. "They are a part of my soul," she wrote. Her home, in Jabaliya refugee camp in Northern Gaza, was hit by an Israeli airstrike on the 10th of October. Mema was head of the female journalists' committee at the Palestinian Media Assembly, an organisation committed to advancing media work for Palestinian journalists.

Ahmad Abu Absa

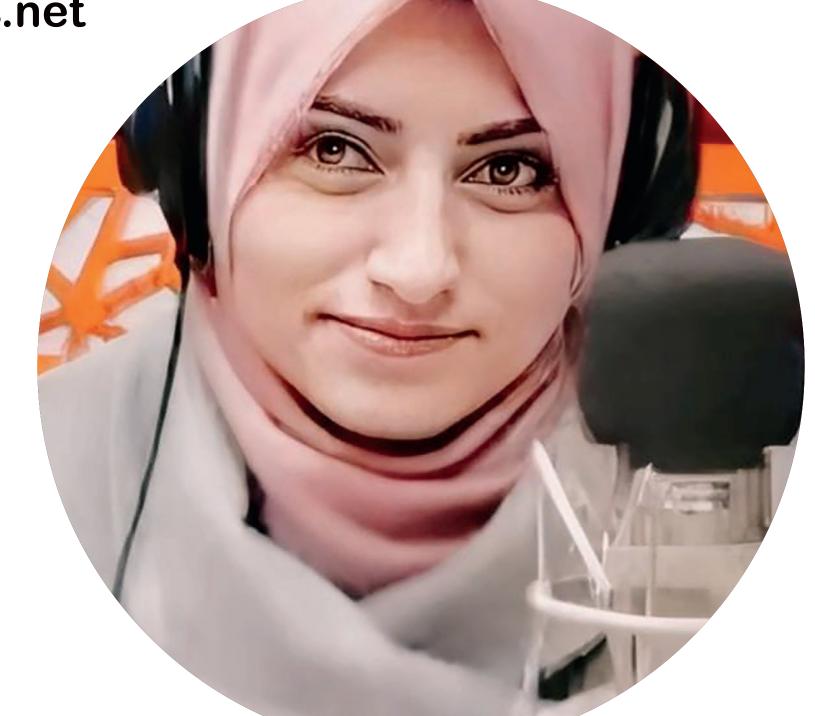

Sari Mansour

Sari Mansour was one of the most famous journalists in Gaza. He worked as the director of the Quds News Agency, and also worked for Al-Quds Channel. During the communication blackout and internet disruption, his wife sent him a handwritten message, pleading: "I've been waiting for you along with the children since morning, and you come. We've been so sad. I kept saying, "he'll come now", but you didn't." Sari and his colleague Husamah were killed in an Israeli airstrike on Bureij refugee camp on the 18th of November, 2023.

Ahmad Al-Qara

Journalist Ahmad Mahmoud Al-Qara graduated with a bachelor's degree in Public Relations from Al-Aqsa University in Gaza, and went on to obtain an MA in Journalism from the Islamic University. He worked as an academic lecturer at Al-Aqsa University, as well as a journalist and photographer. Beloved by everyone and always smiling, he had a dream of becoming a famous journalist, conveying the voice of Palestine to the world. On the 10th of November, 2023, his dreams ended, and he was killed in an Israeli airstrike on his home.

Doaa Sharaf

Duaa Sharaf was killed by an Israeli airstrike on her home in Al-Zawaida area, central Gaza, on the 25th of October after being trapped under the rubble of her home. She was killed together with her young child Obaida, leaving her husband Mahmoud behind. Duaa, was a program presenter and journalist for Al-Aqsa

Stop killing journalists. Stop silencing the truth

Samer Abudaga

He was a journalist with Al Jazeera. Colleagues remember him as an exemplary journalist, a caring man and a father of four; beloved by those working alongside him. His son living in Belgium had a song on social media about missing his father. Israel bombed a school in Khan Yunis where civilians sought refuge. Samer was left to bleed to death for over 5 hours, as Israeli forces prevented ambulances from reaching him.

Belal Jadallah

Known locally as "the godfather of Palestinian journalists", Jadallah was the chairman of the Gaza Press House, an organisation dedicated to training the region's future journalists. He was killed in his car in Gaza by an Israeli airstrike. Most journalists in the besieged Gaza Strip knew Jadallah, and he worked with many of them closely, his mentorship programmes helping many local journalists kickstart their careers.

Ahmad Faima

Journalist Ahmad Fatima worked as a correspondent for the Cairo News Channel. He used to spend time comforting children at Al-Shifa Hospital, trying to reassure them and ease their fear throughout the Israeli bombardment. He was kind hearted and gentle, and loved by all his colleagues. In every gathering of friends, he was present, and if he was ever absent, everyone asked for him. Ahmad was killed by an Israeli missile, while covering the news at the entrance to Al-Shifa Hospital on the 14th of November, 2023
